Our Approach

Understanding your organisation and the business reasons for putting on an event lays the foundation that ensures your event is providing a return on investment. Our approach is unlike our competitors because we focus on your business first and your event is the result.

1. LEARN: We want to get to know you.

What is your business about? What are your challenges? What are the issues that your members or clients are dealing with? By thoroughly understanding your company's leadership culture, how your organisation operates and your long-term strategic plans, we become a part of your team. Our model works best when we can become more than the "hired help" and can become strategic event management partners, so the first step for us is about getting to know you and your business.

2. BUILD: Let us do the heavy lifting.

Because we have taken the time to learn about your business and the goals of your event, you can rest assured that the event will be on target and in line with your objectives. Leave the planning and management to us. Let us look after the details and the heavy lifting that comes with planning a professional event. From our network of preferred vendors, industry connections, and years of experience, we can deliver a full-service event management experience. The Deckworks Events & Entertainment team is well equipped to deliver a world class event, each and every time. Your job is to run your business; our job is to run your event.

3. DELIVER: Sit back. Relax.

Finally, this is where our event management expertise comes into play. At our core, we love events. We love the on-site details, production plans, schedules, deadlines, and to do lists that come along with managing an event. From meticulous management of facility details to audiovisual, catering, and on-site coordination, we ensure every detail is looked after. Managing your event using a strategic overall plan and a methodical management approach allows you to rest easy. Knowing that every last detail is looked after will allow you to focus on your attendees and stakeholders at the event. Let us look after the rest.

'Consider views on managing petroleum assets'

By Cindy Lai
reporters@theborneopost.com

MIRI: Sarawak may be new in the administration of petroleum resources; hence it is important for the state government to take in ideas and suggestions on policies, programmes and investment for consideration for it to manage the resources properly.

President of Sarawak Bumiputera Chamber of Entrepreneurs, Datuk Abang Helmi Ikhsan, said the ideas and suggestions made during the course of the deliberation at the Sarawak Oil & Gas Seminar and Exhibition (SOGSE) held last weekend are very important and maybe useful.

"Therefore it is hoped that the Sarawak government will examine these carefully and possibly, implement them."

"The state government is noted to have taken the right step to set up its own Petroleum Sarawak Berhad (Petros) and the action to exert its right over petroleum resources is very well understood by virtually all Sarawakians."

"It is also equally important that the ideas and suggestions that come from industry players are taken in as it may be able to help to manage the resources effectively," said Helmi.

The two-day seminar came up with seven resolutions and proposed action plans that were unveiled to Chief Minister Datuk Patinggi Abang Johari Tun Openg yesterday.

The resolutions are:

1. To support the Sarawak government's efforts to reaffirm its inalienable rights of ownership and control of Sarawak's oil & gas resources via the Oil Mining Ordinance 1958, in accordance with the Malaysia Agreement 1963, the Sarawak Constitution and the Federal Constitution.
2. To support the Sarawak government's desire to engage with the federal government towards having a mutually agreeable formula while working towards the resolutions on the legality issues so as not to disrupt the progress and development of Sarawak's oil and gas industry and businesses.
3. To ensure a sustainable, secure and affordable development of Sarawak's oil and gas resources through a comprehensive Sarawak oil and gas masterplan, covering the total oil and gas value chain, including to consider the establishment of a sovereign oil and gas wealth fund for the benefits of future generations of Sarawakians.
4. To call for the Sarawak government to enhance the Sarawak Minerals Management Authority (SMMA) to monitor, regulate and enforce Sarawak's prevailing laws and formulate new laws and regulations relating to all oil and gas operations in Sarawak with the aim of improving the prospectivity of acquiring, investing, developing and producing Sarawak oil and gas assets.

5. To call for the establishment of a Sarawak Petroleum Consultative Council comprised of a broad spectrum of stakeholders, particularly from the oil and gas industry in collaboration with the state in ensuring maximum value creation, effective management and meaningful returns from all oil and gas activities and matters affecting Sarawak.
6. To call for the Sarawak government to expeditiously establish local content baseline and policy in terms of value of all oil and gas contracts given out in Sarawak to be allocated to genuine Sarawakian companies and to prioritise the employment of local human resources and the use of Sarawakian oil and gas services and equipment (OGSE) vendors.
7. To promote innovation initiatives that underpin the future development of Sarawak's oil and gas industry by establishing Sarawak's Oil and Gas Innovation Centre (SOGIC) in Miri as realised in SOGSE 2016.

At the opening ceremony, Abang Johari witnessed the commemoration of the collaboration framework for the establishment of Sogic that saw the exchange of documents between Serba Dinamik Holdings Berhad represented by the group's managing director and CEO Datuk Ir Mohd Abdul Karim Abdullah, DUBS Holdings Sdn Bhd represented by managing director Osaha Suhalli, Suarah Petroleum Group represented by president Jamal Ibrahim and Curtin University Sarawak represented by provicancellor Professor Jim Mienchakowski.

The SOGSE, held at a leading hotel on April 13 and 14, was organised by Sarawak Bumiputera Chamber of Entrepreneurs (DUBS) in collaboration with Suarah Petroleum Group (SPG) and Malaysian Oil & Gas Services Council (MOSGSC) and supported by Sarawak government and Deckworks Events.
